The Sutton Place Hotel is Voted “British Columbia’s Leading Hotel” at the 2007 World Travel Awards

VANCOUVER, BC, October 4, 2007 - The results of the 14th annual World Travel Awards are in and The Sutton Place Hotel is pleased to announce that it has been voted “British Columbia’s Leading Hotel” for 2007. The awards were held in New York City on Monday, September 17th and were attended by more than 250 top executives from the travel industry.

“We are honoured to have been selected for such a prestigious award and to be ranked amongst some of the finest properties in North America. This achievement is another tribute to our dedicated staff who strive to make every guest experience a personalized stay at The Sutton Place Hotel”, says General Manager, John Sandor.

The Sutton Place Hotel has maintained the AAA Five Diamond certification for 18 consecutive years. Recently, a multi-million dollar renovation was completed in La Grande Residence portion of the hotel, updating 164 long term stay apartments, the Jacuzzi, pool and lobby area, with much consideration given to environmentally friendly practices. At the end of October, the long-awaited Sutton Place Wine Merchant, an international retail wine boutique, will open its doors. It is because of these continuous updates, along with flawless service and world-class amenities that The Sutton Place Hotel has been chosen as one of our province’s leading properties.

The World Travel Awards were established in 1993 to acknowledge, reward and celebrate the achievements found in all sectors of the global travel industry. Candidates for nomination are based upon the previous years voting for the world’s most comprehensive travel awards with trophies awarded in all areas of the industry.

Vancouver's Five Diamond Sutton Place Hotel is owned and managed by The Sutton Place Grande Hotels Group, with additional luxury properties in Chicago, Edmonton and Toronto.
